

Year 5 Term 4 Best Bits

We have had an amazing Term 4 in Year 5! From writing about how to enter into the prestigious world of Nevermoor, to dressing up as our favourite book character! It most certainly has been a wonderful few weeks.

World Book Day was an incredible day. We had the opportunity to take part in a variety of activities around the school, each with a focus on a different British author. Our imaginations were empowered by all of the wonderful books and writing that we came across. We were also fortunate enough to have an assembly with the author, Emma Carroll! Listening to what she had to say definitely inspired us to pursue any dream that we have.

Towards the end of term, we had the opportunity to have a go at building an Ancient Roman Aqueduct! We were only allowed to use paper, scissors and tape to build our masterpieces. It was a challenge, but we all collaborated together well and persevered to create our own marvellous structures. It is safe to say that we have some aspirant engineers in Year 5!

Science Day was another brilliant day that allowed us to explore all that there is to know about our world. We were fortunate enough to have a 'hands on' experience with some medical kit that is used throughout our hospitals. We were able to use an ultra-sound to see our veins, listen to our heartbeats and take some blood from an arm! Later on in the day, we were visited by South West Water, where we experimented with how our water is filtered from the source, right to our homes.

To launch one of our English units, Nevermoor, we participated in a number of trials. These trials were made to test our skills of confidence, teamwork and resilience. Miss. Ireson and Mr. Sturgeon even made us face our fears by hiding some treasures in a bowl of baked beans! However, to make it worse, we were blindfolded and couldn't see what it was! It was a great way to launch us into this magnificent unit.
